

Carola Müller

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Economics, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg, 2018.

M.A., International Economics, Georg-August-University of Göttingen, 2012.

B.A., Economics, Georg-August-University of Göttingen, 2009.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Since 2020/09 Senior Economist, CEMLA - Center for Latin American Monetary Studies.

2019–2020 Research Economist, Norges Bank, Monetary Policy Department, Research Unit.

2018–2019 PhD–Trainee, European Central Bank, Directorate General Macprudential Policy and Financial Stability, Stress Test Modelling Division.

2015–2018 Research assistant, Halle Institute for Economic Research (IWH), Financial Markets Department.

2012–2015 Research assistant, University of Hohenheim, Stuttgart, Chair of Banking and Financial Services.

VISITING POSITIONS

2020 Visiting researcher, European Central Bank, Directorate General Macprudential Policy and Financial Stability, Stress Test Modelling Division.

2016–2017 Visiting researcher, Deutsche Bundesbank, Directorate General Financial Stability.

PUBLICATIONS

Market power and risk: Evidence from the U.S. mortgage crisis (with Felix Noth), Economics Letters, 169 (2018), 72–75.

The disciplining effect of supervisory scrutiny on banks' risk-taking: evidence from the EU-wide stress test (with Christoffer Kok and Cosimo Pancaro), ECB Macprudential Bulletin No. 9 (Oct 2019).

The demand for safe liquid assets and the implications of issuing a Central Bank Digital Currency for bank funding instruments, Norges Bank Staff Memo Nr 8/2020.