CALL FOR PAPERS

ANNUAL EVENT OF FINANCE RESEARCH LETTERS 2022 CEMLA CONFERENCE: NEW ADVANCES IN INTERNATIONAL FINANCE 21–22 April 2022 Center for Latin American Monetary Studies (CEMLA), Mexico City

KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

Professor Brian Lucey Trinity Business School - Trinity College Dublin

CONFERENCE THEME

For the Finance Research Letters 2022 hybrid conference (both in-person and on-line paper presentations), we would like to invite submissions on substantial, original, and unpublished research. The focus of the conference is on New Advances in International Finance, but we especially welcome papers that address topics such as macrofinance, corporate governance, financial markets, banking or market interdependence.

CALL FOR PAPERS

You are cordially invited to submit your research papers for consideration at the Finance Research Letters 2022 hybrid conference that will take place on 21-22 April 2022 in CEMLA, Mexico City. The conference encourages submissions from any part of the world. In particular, papers from Latin America will be especially well received. Paper submission and presentations at the conference may be in English. This year's event will be held in hybrid form, with both in-person and on-line paper presentations. Acceptance of a paper automatically allows the Conference Programme Committee to assign you or an attending co-author to be a discussant on another paper.

AWARDS

Two prizes will be awarded, each of which will be 1,000 USD. The first of these awards will go to the best paper of the entire conference, and the second to the best paper from a PhD student.

JOURNAL PUBLICATION OPPORTUNITIES

The most outstanding articles will have the opportunity to be published in a Special Issue of Finance Research Letters or the Latin American Journal of Central Banking. Authors who wish their paper to be considered for either of the two special issues need to clearly indicate during the conference submission process that they are opting for dual submission, i.e., conference and journal.

Please visit https://www.elsevier.com/journals/finance-research-letters/1544-6123/guide-for-authors for full author guidelines and https://www.sciencedirect.com/journal/finance-research-letters to know more about Finance Research Letters. Information on the Latin American Journal of Central Banking can be found at https://www.journals.elsevier.com/latin-american-journal-of-central-banking/.

After the conference, the authors will be notified and provided with detailed instructions on how to submit papers to the special issues. Papers submitted will not be subject to submission fees and will go through the usual reviewing process in accordance with each journal's guidelines.

VENUE

With the theme of "New Advances in International Finance", the annual event will be held at CEMLA, at Calle de Durango 54, Mexico City 06700 on 21-22 April 2022.
